Countdown Begins for Europe's Premier Window, Door, and Glass Fairs!

The 25th Eurasia Window, 16th Eurasia Door, and 14th Eurasia Glass Fairs will be held concurrently from November 16 to 19, 2024, at the Tüyap Fair and Congress Center in Istanbul. These flagship events, uniting the three most vital sectors of the construction industry, are expected to attract approximately 68,000 attendees, including 15,000 international visitors.

Having evolved into one of the largest and most significant trade fairs in Türkiye and Eurasia, these trade events will take place across 14 halls at the Tüyap Fair and Congress Center in Istanbul. They will bring together the interconnected sectors of the construction industry under one roof from November 16th to 19th, 2024.

As leading industry events in the Eurasia region, these fairs are organized by RX Tüyap in collaboration with the Window and Door Sector Association (PÜKAD) and the Window Producers Quality League Association (PÜKAB). This powerful collaboration ensures a strong presence from both domestic and international companies, showcasing a vast array of products and technologies. Industry professionals will have the unique opportunity to discover, compare, and select the most suitable technologies, products, and materials for their upcoming investments. An estimated 68,000 visitors are expected, with 15,000 of them coming from abroad.

Special Aluminum and Shading Systems Area at the Eurasia Window Fair

The 25th Eurasia Window Fair will showcase machinery, technologies, mechanisms, and raw materials for windows and window profiles, alongside insulation and facade systems, and related auxiliary products. The Aluminum Special Section will feature leading companies from Türkiye and the Eurasian region, specializing in aluminum windows, profiles, facade systems, aluminum accessories, and manufacturing machinery. The Shading Special Section will host prominent companies in shading, pergola, glass balcony, and winter garden systems.

Eurasia Door Fair: Opening its Doors for the 16th Time

Now in its 16th year, the Eurasia Door Fair will feature a diverse array of doors, innovative door models, shutter systems, panels, boards and partitions, door accessories, and door technologies. This fair provides local manufacturers with an unparalleled opportunity to showcase their products and gain traction in target markets across Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and North Africa.

Eurasia Glass Fair: Showcasing Cutting-Edge Technologies and the Latest Glass Trends

Entering its 14th year, the Eurasia Glass Fair will welcome visitors from various industries, including architecture, glass manufacturing, supply, and decoration. Attendees will have the opportunity to explore and examine glass products and applications, production and processing technologies, machinery, auxiliary products, and the latest innovations and trends in glass.
